Abboob Bil Bryan.
Abboob Bil Bryan (may his jaw have rest)
Awoke one midnight from a dream—
And in the alcove where he kept his Likewise his grape-juice and some other drinks—
He saw an angel in a nighty clad,
Who banged a battered Remington like mad.
Excessive speech had made Bil Bryan
bold,
So in his deep chautauqua voice he troiled:
"What tyest thou?" The vision smiled, "Go hence!
I write the names of future presidents."
"And is mine one?" asked Abboob.
"Nope, not yet,"
Replied the writing angel. "You should fret."
And Abboob, though his inmost soul
was vexed,
Just swallowed hard and muttered,
"Put me next."
The angel wrote and beat it. The next night
He came illumined by a tungsten light.
And gave to Abboob, with a loud tee-hee
A carbon copy of his screed, and—Gee!
Bil Bryan's name stood first of any man's

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.
